FEAST DAYS

by Franciscan Media

- 5th, Saint Boniface of Mainz (d. 754)
- 6th, Saint Norbert (d. 1134)
- 7th, Saint Colman of Dromore (d. 514)
- 8th, Saint William of York (d. 1154)
- 9th, Saint Ephrem (d. 373)
- 10th, Saint Getulius (d. 120)
- 11th, Saint Barnabas (c. 75)

Barnabas, a Jew of Cyprus, comes as close as anyone outside the Twelve to being a full-fledged apostle. He introduced Paul to Peter and the other apostles and traveled and preached with him extensively. When a Christian community developed at Antioch, Barnabas was sent as the official representative of the church of Jerusalem to incorporate them into the fold. But all was not peaceful. When Paul wanted to revisit the places they had evangelized, Barnabas wanted to take along his cousin John Mark, author of the Gospel, but Paul insisted that he was not fit to take along now. The disagreement that followed separated Barnabas and Paul: Barnabas taking Mark to Cyprus, Paul taking Silas to Syria. Later they were reconciled. Barnabas is spoken of simply as one who dedicated his life to the Lord. He was a man "filled with the Holy Spirit and faith. Thereby, large numbers were added to the Lord." Even when he and Paul were expelled from Antioch in Pisidia—modern-day Turkey—they were "filled with joy and the Holy Spirit."

CHALLENGE OF THE WEEK

by Dan Harms

The last words of Jesus on earth:

"You shall receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you and you shall be my witnesses in Jerusalem, Samaria, and Judea, and to the ends of the earth." Acts 1:8

Witnesses to the ends of the earth? Seriously? Judas turned on Christ, Peter denied him (thrice), all but John abandon him at the cross. After the crucifixion they disperse—two to Emmaus, others to Galilee, some seem to return to their previous lives as fishermen. When they do gather, they gather in upper rooms specifically out of fear of persecution (John 20:19). The disciples are about the furthest thing from ready to go out and bear witness to Jesus Christ.

And yet, at Pentecost these same Disciples (now with Matthias replacing Judas) leave their locked room with boldness and zeal to preach in the streets and live out their faith in vibrant, life giving, community. Their witness leads to thousands upon thousands coming to the waters of baptism and faith in Jesus. Most in the room at Pentecost went on to be martyred, yet they maintained their resolute witness and joy in Christ to the end.

From a terrified group of disciples in a locked upper room to the fearless Apostles whose witness had lead to 2.6 billion Christians (1.3 billion Catholics) in the world—what changed?

The Holy Spirit.

Our challenge this week is to step out of our comfort zones and call upon the Holy Spirit to empower us to bring Christ into our relationships, community, and world.

When we are confronted with impossible decisions, the Holy Spirit guides us. When patience is slipping and love has worn thin, the Holy Spirit graces us with a depth of love that exceeds our own. When temptation is overwhelming, the Holy Spirit fortifies. When we are fearful or anxious—especially about sharing a witness of faith—the Holy Spirit empowers us.

Want to try it? Here's a simple prayer: "Come, Holy Spirit."

We are cheering you on, God Bless.

Second Reading

Romans 8:8-17

We are all one in Christ Jesus.

Gospel Reading

John 20:19-23

The season of Easter concludes with today's celebration, the feast of Pentecost. On Pentecost, we celebrate the descent of the Holy Spirit upon the Apostles gathered in the upper room in Jerusalem; this event marks the beginning of the Church. The story of Pentecost is found in the Acts of the Apostles, today's first reading. The account in today's Gospel, taken from the Gospel of John, also recounts how Jesus gave the gift of the Holy Spirit to his disciples. There is no need to try to reconcile these two accounts to each other. It is enough to know that, after his death, Jesus fulfilled his promise to send to his disciples a helper, an advocate, who would enable them to be his witnesses throughout the world.

SANCTIFICATION DOME MOSAIC

FROM FRONT COVER

The oldest dome in the Basilica of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, in Washington, D.C., the Sanctification Dome depicts the events of Pentecost as detailed in Acts 2:2-4, when the Holy Spirit came to the disciples.

The four clusters of people include representatives from Asia, Africa, Europe, and America, symbolizing the sanctification of the entire world by the Spirit.

We previously heard today's Gospel on the second Sunday of Easter. At that time, we also heard the passage that follows, which describes Jesus' appearance to Thomas. In that context, we were led to reflect on belief and unbelief.

In the context of the feast of Pentecost, this reading reminds us about the integral connection between the gifts of peace and forgiveness and the action of the Holy Spirit. Jesus greets his disciples with the gift of peace. Jesus then commissions his disciples to continue the work that he has begun, "As the Father has sent me, so I send you." As he breathes the Holy Spirit upon them, Jesus sends his disciples to continue his work of reconciliation through the forgiveness of sins. This Gospel reminds us that the Church is called to be a reconciling presence in the world. This reconciling presence of Christ is celebrated in the Church's sacramental life. In the Sacrament of Baptism, we are washed clean from sin and become a new creation in Christ. In the Sacrament of Penance, the Church celebrates the mercy of God in forgiving sins. This reconciling presence is also to be a way of life for Christians. In situations of conflict, we are to be agents of peace and harmony among people.
